

Protecting Iowa's Economic Future

Protecting Working Families

A lifelong farmer, Terry Hertle understands the challenges facing middle-class families everyday. Terry believes hard-working Iowans should be able to provide for their families, and supports efforts to create a livable wage at the State House.

Green Collar Jobs

Terry believes that all Iowans can benefit from innovations in wind, solar, ethanol and bio-diesel energy solutions. As State Representative, Terry will work to bring these “green collar” jobs to rural Iowa and ensure we attract the high-tech jobs to keep our young working families right here in Iowa.

Growing Iowa's Rural Economy

Terry Hertle believes that in order to grow Iowa's economy for the future, we must increase efforts to spur rural development in our area, and recruit and retain young people to our state. If elected, Terry will help lead the State's efforts by providing incentives to new businesses that create high-paying jobs in Iowa.
